SALEM FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES.

The past year has been one of progress and prosperity for the institution, and a large amount of excellent reading matter and literature has been placed in the hands of its patrons.

We believe that the library is perhaps doing better work and reaching a larger number of patrons than its generous founders even anticipated.

We are confident that the class of books and publications found on the shelves of this library are such as to warrant the strict examination and approval of all its patrons, and will compare favorably with libraries of its size anywhere in the state.

While the library is not easy of access to all sections of the town we have an excellent system of free transportation whereby the outside patrons may secure books in this manner and be sure of good selections by the librarian and her assistant.

New books and publications are being added several times a year and we also have a large list of magazines on our reading tables for the benefit of our patrons. The library is rich in books of all kinds, to suit almost every taste for literature, and we trust that the townspeople will avail themselves of its privileges more and more as time goes on.

The trustees desire to express their appreciation to all friends of the institution who have contributed in any way to its success the past year.

Owing to the fact that all library supplies and the cost of maintenance has largely increased in recent years, a larger appropriation will be necessary for the up-keep of the library, and we would recommend an appropriation of $350.00 for the fiscal year.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

There have been but few cases of contagious disease in this town during the last year, other than the so-called children diseases.

There were reported to the health officer: 4 cases of whooping-cough, 1 case of tuberculosis, 37 cases of measles, and 1 case of diphtheria.

The United States Public Health Service early in the summer of 1918 established a sanitary district about the navy yard at Portsmouth known as the Portsmouth-Kittery district and all communicable diseases were required to be reported to the army officer in charge, in addition to the regular reports to the State Board of Health.

The epidemic of so-called influenza which raged all over the world during the early winter and which caused so many deaths in nearby cities and towns, was very light in this town and we had but few deaths that could be laid directly to this cause.

Public health authorities are at present giving a great amount of work to locating tuberculosis cases and to the care and treatment of these cases. It is feared that there will be a great increase in this disease with the return of the army from Europe. Every case should be reported to the health officer.

There were 39 deaths from all causes, an increase of two over the preceding year.

Population last census, 2,120, death-rate per thousand, 18.39.

Health Officer.

The Municipal Court of Salem for the year ending January 1, 1919, has seen the largest business since its organization. Over 150 cases for violation of the liquor laws alone have been tried. This has involved a large amount of clerical work for the court when it is recognized that with no clerk or regular organization more liquor cases have been handled than all the courts of Rockingham County united.

The court as now established, being an official court of record, has to keep a correct account of all proceedings for future reference.

The town should provide for the compensation of a clerk when the business requires it as requested in an article in the warrant.

L. WALLACE HALL,

Justice.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SCHOOL DEPARTMENT.

The attention of the district is called to the fact that owing to the epidemic of influenza our schools have been more or less broken up. Many of the teachers having been unable to attend to their work, some of the schools were closed because substitutes could not be found. The statement on page 75 shows the expenditures in each department.

We wish to call your attention to the fact that the amount asked for in addition to that required by law, is subject to the House bill No. 262 now pending in the Legislature.

For the fiscal year ending August 31, 1920, we recommend the following amounts to be voted on:

In addition to amount required by law,	$5,500.00
Salary of school board, treasurer, and truant officer,	235.00
Insurance,	215.00

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen, we, the school board, hereby notify you that the following amounts be assessed for the coming year ending August 31, 1920:

To be raised by law,	$3,195.00
Books and supplies,	400.00
Flags and appurtenances,	25.00
High school tuition,	2,500.00

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT

To the School Board and Citizens of Salem:

I herewith submit my second annual report, the fifteenth in the series of such reports.

The year of 1917-18 was one calling for constant change and readaptation of the school work. Every few days the schools were called upon to assume some new duty, to put forth some fresh effort in order that the war program might be carried forward; and in addition to the war work especially connected with the schools, teachers and pupils were called upon by outside forces for equally exacting efforts. The way in which all rose to meet the calls to patriotic effort awakened first surprise, then pride in the minds of all connected with the schools.

At first there was the fear that these extra activities would be likely to lower the quality of the regular work, but as time went on it became evident that a mental alertness had been awakened that made all school effort a patriotic duty to be taken up with spirit. Toward the end of the year it became evident that the work was fully up to standard.

Both teachers and pupils labored with tireless zeal, and did whatever task was assigned them in connection with each Liberty Loan campaign; the labor assigned by committees on Red Cross work, War Saving Stamps, Food Conservation and Food Production with energy and spirit.

In the campaign for War Saving Stamps and Thrift Stamps remarkable work was done. Activity in this line was stimulated by a challenge sent out by the children of Number Eight School to a contest to last from June to the end of December to see what school should buy the largest number of War Saving Stamps in proportion to the number of children enrolled. Below is the result of this contest. Further remarks are not needed.

School.	Enrollment.	Total Value.	Average.
No. 1	71	$166.72	$2.35
No. 4	9	5.00	.55
No. 5	18	200.50	11.14
No. 6	162	1,018.00	6.28
No. 8	59	118.00	2.00
No. 10	14	50.00	3.57

Numbers 3, 7 and 9 have not reported.

The two campaigns into which the schools entered with the most hearty zeal were those of food production and food conservation.

The state and national campaign for food conservation began, necessarily, immediately after the United States entered the war. Much of the publicity literature was circulated by the pupils and it was surprising how loyally and intelligently they entered into the spirit of food saving—not merely by distributing the printed matter but by practising economy and care in food saving at home.

The big part of this campaign, however, had to do with canning, drying and preserving fruits, vegetables and other garden products for winter use, and the work along this line done by school girls was certainly remarkable, some having canned as much as 175 quarts.

In this work the chief credit for inspiration and method must be given to the canning clubs and their leaders; and also to the county canning club director, Miss Mary Sanborn of Durham.

In the work of food production by the pupils of the schools this year we should feel especial pride. Some 250 or more pupils from the first grade to the eighth declared their intention of having gardens. The garden plots ranged from 5 feet by 5 feet for first grade children to 50 feet by 100 feet for pupils of the eighth grade. Most of these 250 gardens were planted, and of these a very large proportion were carried through the season. Some children became discouraged by the effects of the frost of June 20th, but many planted again and worked the harder to get a crop.

The total value of the products as nearly as I have been able to estimate them was about $1,200. Many children failed to keep a record of the produce as they picked it during the season for table use, and only a rough estimate could be made of the value of lettuce, snap beans, peas, sweet corn and various other products from the reports which the children could give from memory.

Again we utilized the club spirit as developed by the inspirational, as well as the demonstration work of Mr. Carlisle, who had charge of boys' and girls' club work throughout the state but whose chief work was in this county.

We are indebted to the Salem branch of the Rockingham County Farmers' Association for the hearty aid given throughout the season, and for the exhibit held in October.

At this exhibit the boys and girls made a splendid showing, even though some of the best gardens in the town were not represented.

The educational value of this garden and ensuing work is much greater than can be estimated. The chief value of school work is to train the child to habits of industry, honesty of thinking and to prolonged effort on a project. Nothing to which the child can apply himself will produce higher results on these lines than gardening. But the garden should be his own, and he should get the money value of the returns whether this be much or little.

In December, 1917, Miss Grace Phillips of School Number Seven retired and Miss Helen Crowley was chosen to fill the vacancy. At the same time Miss Vivian Andrews of the primary room at Number One resigned and Miss Alvira Slack was chosen to take her place. In May Miss Frawley left Number Ten, and Miss Lettie McMaster was chosen to complete the year.

During the summer the following resignations were received and accepted:

Miss Martha Pattee from the second primary, Depot School.

Mrs. Anna Firth from Number Eight.

Miss Bertha Palmer from Number Four.

Miss Flora McCubbin from Number Three.

Miss Alvira Slack from Number One.

Miss Lettie McMaster from Number Ten.

Miss Marian McMaster was transferred from Number Five to the Depot School, primary room.

Miss Mina Valentine of the Lowell Normal School and Lawrence Training School was elected to Number Eight.

Miss Grace Meserve of Canobie Lake, graduate of Plymouth Normal School, with a year's experience in Pembroke was chosen for Number Four.

Miss Genevieve O'Leary of the Lowell Normal School was chosen for Number Three but she stayed only one week and Miss Anna Hunt of Fall River took her place.

Miss Marion Wingate of Amesbury, was chosen for Number One primary. Miss Wingate had had four year's experience and, although not a normal school graduate, was especially well qualified for primary work.

Miss Louise G. McGregor, Lowell Normal School and six months' experience, was chosen for Number Ten and Miss Vera Wood, Keene Normal School, with two years' experience for Number Five.

Shortly after the schools opened Miss Sybil White resigned from the Depot first primary school and Miss Helen Crowley was transferred from Number Seven, the vacancy being filled by the choice of Miss Lydia Foster, another Lowell graduate.

After two years' work in charge of the Domestic Arts work Miss Valerie Tuttle resigned. Miss Elizabeth Higgins was chosen to have charge of this work but owing to ill health has not yet been able to assume her duties. Miss Junkins has been filling the position as substitute with general satisfaction.

The call of war work was very strong during the year and the high salaries, combined with what appeared to many to be a patriotic duty, attracted large numbers of teachers. That so many others realized that the greatest patriotic duty that a teacher could possibly perform was to stay at her post even when staying meant loss of money is greatly to their credit. No work done by any other profession or by any other class of workers was of greater value to state and nation than that done by the teachers who stayed on their "jobs," patiently and patriotically fitting the boys and girls of today for the duties of citizenship that they must in the near future assume. We highly appreciate those who had the vision and the steadfastness of purpose to remain faithful to this great work.

The call to war work created a scarcity of teachers such as was never before known. Results of this are going to be better appreciation of the teaching profession and more adequate salaries.

The epidemic of influenza hit us hard. All schools were closed for three weeks from September 28th to October 20th and several of the schools have since been closed for from one to three weeks on account of the illness of teacher and pupils. At this time it is impossible to determine to what extent the losses in work can be made up. The teachers are putting forth every effort to overcome the losses as fully as possible, and we are hoping to make up the lost time and practically all of the work.

In the spring of 1918 the teachers and the pupils of the Center school decided to earn money to purchase a bell for the school building. The money was earned during the summer and the bell purchased in the early fall, but owing to difficulties in railroad transportation it did not reach Salem until November 10th when it was placed on the piazza. It received its baptism during the day of the signing of the armistice. It seemed as if practically every child belonging to the school gave it a pull in honor of the day.

It is now in place in the belfry and ready for duty.

We are emerging from the war with new ideas and higher ideals of patriotism and civic duty. We have had impressed upon our minds as never before that the fundamental safeguards of civilization are education to prepare for citizenship, and general participation in the responsibilities of government. Education without individual responsibility produced German autoeracy; participation without education is giving to the world Russian Bolshevism. The safety of representative government and of civilization lies in our public schools whose chief aim must be preparation for citizenship.

In conclusion I wish to say that in our present corps of teachers we have a whole souled, devoted, patriotic group who are giving the best of their lives that the state may live. They are devoting themselves without stint to the training of those under their charge in mental alertness and accuracy, in moral purity of thought and conduct and in physical strength and power. They have in mind the careful training of their boys and girls to a wholesome attitude toward life and definite efforts toward the achievement of a high purpose.

To these teachers, to the committee and to the citizens of the town I desire to express my hearty appreciation of the support and coöperation given me.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES A. MACDOUGALL,
Superintendent.

MANUAL TRAINING DEPARTMENT.

The classes at Salem Depot have had an average attendance of 22; 7 were enrolled from the Center, 1 from Number Five, 7 from Number Six, 2 from Number Seven, and 7 from Number Eight.

The same course has been followed as in other years; simple lessons on tools, their parts and care, squaring, laying out, planing, and a few simple joints, screwed, nailed, glued, dowel, mortise and tenon, hinged, and mitered. These joints have been applied to projects that were largely the boy's individual choice and include boxes, tabourets, plant stands, footstools of various types, tool chests, skiis, desk sets, sled-tops, clothes-line reel, gun rack, and four Morris chairs.

Design and proportion of parts has been studied, different kinds of lumber identified, and some of the adaptations of each to practical work noticed. The beauty of simple strong lines in furniture has been spoken of, and the choice of finish in relation to use has been considered with regard to each project.

The reading of simple working plans has been taught to the first year pupils, the drawing of such to those of the second year.

The installation of the electric lighting in the workshop has resulted in a marked improvement in amount and quality of work accomplished.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY A. FISK,
Instructor.

THE DOMESTIC ARTS DEPARTMENT.

The class in Domestic Arts was under the supervision of Miss Tuttle from the opening of the fall term until October first. Attention was given to fruit canning and jelly-making. There was a three weeks recess during October on account of the influenza epidemic.

The girls have shown a commendable interest in the work of the cooking class. Under the subject of batters the following were made: corn-meal and rye muffins, ginger-bread, steamed Thanksgiving pudding, sponge cake, griddle cakes, and quick nut bread, also several kinds of pudding, escalloped dishes and soups. Attention has been given to the proper care of the kitchen equipment and cooking utensils.

The sewing class has been giving attention to what might be called the homely arts, such as darning, patching, making holders and hemming towels and handkerchiefs. At present the class is engaged in making night gowns.

Respectfully submitted,

RUTH JENKINS,

Instructor.

REPORT OF MUSIC INSTRUCTOR.

To Mr. James A. MacDougall, Superintendent, Salem, N. H.:

The text-books, the Ginn and Company's Educational Series, are being used in the lower grades, and the Progressive Music Reader No. 3 in the grammar grades.

The pupils of the primary grades have done excellent work in rote song. Beginning with the second grade notation and rhythm have been introduced. Through the third and fourth grades we are getting very good results in reading. The grammar pupils at the Depot, Center, Numbers 4, 9 and 8 schools are doing fine work in three-part singing.

Each year this course of study recommended by the New Hampshire State Board of Education brings us, as a group of schools, nearer to the aims which we have in mind in this work. These aims are:

I. To enable the largest possible number of children to participate correctly and tunefully in the singing.

II. To develop in them a love for good music.

III. To teach as many of the principles, and to furnish as much of the practice, of sight singing as possible.

In every school room the pupils are doing creditable work and I am glad of the opportunity to thank their teachers, in this public way for their earnest work and hearty coöperation.

I wish also to thank the Superintendent of Schools and the School Board for their continued interest and support.

Respectfully submitted,

EVA A. WILLIAMS.
